

Dialogue Activity – Two Character

Faye: Here's your tea dad – and your scone. No jam, just butter.

George: Thanks.

Faye: It really is a lovely view.

George: Mmm...

George: The way the sunlight skips over the water. Your mum would've done a good job on that. Especially in oils.

Faye: Mmm...

Faye: You, er..., you going to be okay with her paintings? Packing them I mean.

George: Yes.

Faye: That's good.

George: I won't have room to hang all of them, not in a bungalow of course. So, most will come out of their frames, and I'll store them in an easy accessible box or crate or something. You never know, you might change your mind.
